The Council Bluffs Public Library is currently planning the Summer Library Program, which this year will include adults as well as the traditional programs for kids and teens. This is the centerpiece of Library programming, now a truly community affair, encouraging all of Council Bluffs to read and to partake of the many programs and benefits the Library offers. Can we count on your help?

All Library programming relies solely on donations. The Library's general budget does not support any programming incentives, speakers, supplies, or advertising. As you make your end of the year donations, would you consider making a monetary donation to the Library Summer Program or, perhaps a donation of goods and/or services? In addition to monetary donations, of special need are reading incentive items for kids and teens as well as goods and services of interest to adults. Your tax-deductible donation stays local and will provide direct service to program participants.

If you choose to donate, your business will be recognized as a sponsor in our summer program booklets, which are distributed throughout the community. For more information about the tax-deductible options available to your business or organization, please contact Teen Services Manager Anna Hartmann (712-323-7553 x105). If you wish, you may mail your donations to the attention of Anna Hartmann, 400 Willow Ave., Council Bluffs, IA 51503. Donations must be pledged or received by March 31, 2013, in order to be recognized in our summer program publicity booklets.

Thank you sincerely for your time and consideration.
